CIMARRON REPEATING ARMS

Personally endorsed by President Lincoln, the 1860 Spencer Repeater was one of the most popular and widely used rifles in the War Between the States. After the war, the 1860 Spencer moved westward to the frontier and was the primary U.S. Cavalry rifle used during the Indian Wars.

CIMARRON BIG BORE LEVER ACTIONS

The Winchester Repeating Arms Company introduced the Model 1876 at the Philadelphia Centennial, celebrating the 100 year anniversary of the Declaration of Independence from British rule. The 1876 was chambered in much more powerful hunting cartridges than the 1873 model. The '76 was the favorite hunting rifle of one of the greatest American outdoorsmen, Theodore Roosevelt.

1876 Carbine "Crossfire"
22", 45-60, 45-75

The 1876 Carbine made exclusively for Cimarron by A. Uberti using an original from the Cimarron collection. It is available in a case colored Civilian model called the 'CROSSFIRE'. This version of the gun was further glorified in the movie 'Crossfire Trail'. An all blued, 45-75 North West Mounted Police (N.W.M.P.) model is also available. The 1876 saddle ring carbine was their weapon of choice.

1886 Rifle
26" 45-70

The 1886 model, patented by John Browning in 1884 was brought to Winchesters attention while the two companies were negotiating for manufacturing rights to the 1885 Highwall and Lowall. The 1886 was to become Winchesters Big Game repeater often seeing action in Africa and became Theodore Roosevelt's favorite until it ceased production in 1932.

Today original '86's in good condition bring a big premium from hunters and collectors. The Cimarron Model 1886 is every bit as strong and accurate as the original at 1/10th the price.

CIMARRON SINGLE SHOT RIFLES

Premium walnut hand oil finish, forged frame, broached (cut) rifling.

"The Rifle From Down Under" 1874 Sporting Rifle
34" octagon barrel .45-70, .45-90, .45-110, 45-120, 50-70, 50-90.

We recreated Matthew's rifle for the adventurous souls desiring single shot rifles capable of the accuracy depicted in the epic film, 'Quigley Down Under'. The Cimarron "Rifle From Down Under" model is a faithful reproduction of the long range rifle from that famous epic. It is every bit as accurate as the fictional character's original firearm.

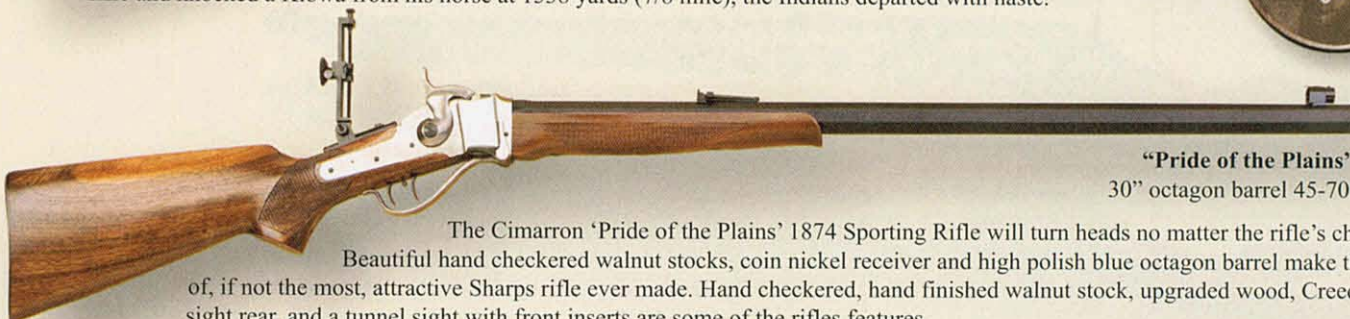

"Big Fifty"®
34" octagon to round barrel. 50-90.

The Cimarron 'Big Fifty'® is our top of the line Sharps Rifle. There are none better when comparing style or accuracy. This model features upgraded wood, hand checkered pistol grip stock, upgraded finish, case hardened receiver, silver German nose cap and 34" octagon to round barrel with cut rifling. Comes with Soule Midrange sights, spirit level rear, globe front with inserts.

"Billy Dixon"®
32" octagon barrel 45-70, .45-90, 50-70.

It was June 27, 1874 at Adobe Walls on the Canadian River in the Texas panhandle. Young Billy Dixon and 27 Buffalo hunters were suddenly surrounded by more than 500 Kiowa and Comanche warriors. The Kiowa medicine man told the warriors that his medicine made them invisible to the bullets of the white eyes. When Dixon fired a borrowed Sharps sporting rifle and knocked a Kiowa from his horse at 1538 yards (7/8 mile), the Indians departed with haste.

"Pride of the Plains"
30" octagon barrel 45-70.

The Cimarron 'Pride of the Plains' 1874 Sporting Rifle will turn heads no matter the rifle's chore. Beautiful hand checkered walnut stocks, coin nickel receiver and high polish blue octagon barrel make this one of, if not the most, attractive Sharps rifle ever made. Hand checkered, hand finished walnut stock, upgraded wood, Creedmoor sight rear, and a tunnel sight with front inserts are some of the rifles features.

"Adobe Walls"® Rolling Block.
30" octagon barrel 45-70.

Cimarron's 'Adobe Walls' rolling block replicates Billy Dixon's rifle of choice. It features a hand checkered walnut stock, upgraded walnut hand finished, case hardened receiver and German silver nose cap.

Slotter & Co. Sharps
34" barrel, 45-70 High Grade Maple

Henry and Frederick Slotterbeck left Henry Derringer Co. in 1860 and opened Slotter & Co factory making der-ringers, small pistols and custom plains rifles. Later they built Buffalo rifles for upscale hunters on the 1874 Sharps barreled action. The Cimarron Slotter & Co. Sharps is an exact copy of one of the Slotter & Co. originals. The company closed in 1869.

McNelly Ranger ca. 1870

McNelly™ Carbine
22" Round barrel 45-70 - 50-70.

This Sharps Carbine is a copy of the 1859 Percussion Sharps Military Carbine converted to centerfire. This firearm was then sold to Texas and issued to the Texas Rangers stationed on the Western Frontier. Each of the 36 original carbines were marked on the barrel by the Rangers with a 'T ★ S' and numbered as issued. The carbines are produced in the original 50-70 and 45-70 calibers. The Carbines feature case colored receivers and a blued steel barrel and parts. The wood is American black walnut as was used on the original Texas Ranger carbines.

U.S.A. Shooting Team Creedmoor
34" 45-70

On September 26th 1874 Creedmoor witnessed a crowd of over five thousand people attending the first international shooting competition in America. At 800 yards the Americans had a good lead. The Irish gained on them at 900 yards, and by the time they had finished shooting at 1000 yards, were ahead of the Americans. In the end, the match was determined by the very last shot by the Americans. Shooting a bull's eye at 1000 yards to score 4, the Americans emerged the winners with 934 points to the Irish team's 931.

CIMARRON SINGLE SHOT RIFLES

"The 1885 High Wall is no doubt stronger than the Sharps rifle, better designed, made of better materials and is of better appearance than that famous arm... All these rifles proved very accurate and reliable in every way."

- Major Ned Roberts, author.

Shown with optional D03 tang and TS05 front target sights.

The above testimony by the foremost expert in the field of single shot rifles says something for the design of this rifle. It is used exclusively where accuracy is demanded. Be it long range competition, Wild West shooting exhibitions (Pawnee Bill was a High Wall shooter) or sport hunting, John Browning's High Wall design was then and is once again king of the range. The Cimarron High Wall is available with sporting model single or double set triggers. Walnut stocks are either straight or hand checkered pistol grip style.

Cimarron's High Wall receiver is of the more stylish "Thin Side" class, while our Low Wall is the "Thick Side" version.
